Also, from what is known of [redacted] background, it would appear that she would be the more likely one to have been in Palm Springs since she has a background of association with these individuals.

For the info. of the Los Angeles Office, New York has recently opened a file on [redacted] in which there is set forth the fact that [redacted] was in telephonic contact with [redacted] though the date of this call is not furnished. [redacted]

For the benefit of both the Los Angeles and New York Offices, in contacts with [redacted] and [redacted] by Las Vegas, [redacted] was found to be the more cooperative, and in the event Los Angeles should consider such an approach advisable, it is suggested New York be requested to contact [redacted] directly concerning her possible whereabouts during the period in question in captioned matter.

On 2/18/66, [redacted] (PROTECT IDENTITY), [redacted] was contacted inasmuch as she has been established [redacted] by this office concerning visits to Las Vegas by VINCENT ALO to [redacted]

There are not any logical hotel records that might be checked to possibly establish ALO's appearance in Las Vegas during the pertinent period, and it is believed that in the event he did stay in a hotel that there would be no record of any such occupancy.

There is a distinct possibility that [REDACTED] and/or others who were at Palm Springs during the pertinent period may have leased this aircraft from Tracey Leasing. Additionally, calls were made to the Sands Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada and to the Las Vegas office [redacted].

Hotel records of the Canyon Club Inn, Palm Springs, California, reflected that one VINCENT ALO of 1248 Monroe Street, Hollywood, Florida, was a guest at this hotel in room 239 between the dates of 10/8 - 18/65. Mr. RUBY LAZARUS with another guest, shared room 235 at this same hotel between the dates of 10/12 - 18/65. The houseboy

Several days after [redacted] arrived, two men appeared at the residence for meetings with the above individuals, one of whom was RUBY and the other TONY. They were driving a rental car and stayed at the Canyon Club Inn in Palm Springs. The houseboy was aware of this because he ran errands for them to and from the Canyon Club Inn and the Palm Springs residence.

According to the houseboy [redacted] was extremely angered with RUBY and accused him of being responsible for the loss of large sums of money. SULLIVAN stated he gained the impression they were large gamblers and possibly were booking the World Series, although he had no specifics to back this feeling up. He claimed that the one called TONY (FAT TONY SALERNO), more or less acted as a peace maker between [redacted] and RUBY (RUBY LAZARUS) and made statements that although he was accountable for the loss, they still made money. [redacted] was probably a member of this group. He stated that [redacted] and [redacted] are currently living in California and Las Vegas respectively, and LAZARUS was actually running the bookmaking office from Miami Beach. He stated that until LAZARUS became associated with this group he was considered a member of the lower gambling echelon in the Miami area. Besides LAZARUS' close association with the Italian element, he cited the fact that LAZARUS is known to keep very good bookmaking records, and this would enable him to perform as a clerk for a bookmaking office.

b7C

He further advised that the "Iron Curtain" group has done extremely well and has made money on all sporting events. He advised that during the 1965 World Series while LAZARUS was operating at the Seville Hotel, Miami Beach, LAZARUS ran into extreme trouble.

He reflected that this trouble was caused by LAZARUS' owing a considerable amount of money to various Miami bookmakers under the guise of this being money of the "Iron Curtain" group. In fact, this money was being bet solely by LAZARUS. Source indicated that he owes money to local bookmakers [redacted] and possibly the bookmaking office of [redacted]

[redacted] was not aware that [redacted] was residing at the Seville Hotel, Miami Beach, during October, 1965, but reasoned that in view of [redacted] close association with both LAZARUS and [redacted] [redacted] involving some of the money LAZARUS owes.

He continued stating that in view of the Italian interest in the "Iron Curtain" group, it was very unusual that physical harm did not come to LAZARUS in view of the money trouble he was in. At the present time LAZARUS is looked on with much disfavor among the Miami gambling element.

SUMMARY OF INVESTIGATION BY AUXILIARY OFFICES

Miami by communication dated 2/19/66, furnished full background contained in their files concerning all subjects. Of extreme pertinence this case are the following facts:

Special Agents of the FBI personally observed [ ] FAT TONY SALERNO and RUBY LAZARUS together in Miami, Florida on 9/28/65.

b6
b7C

On 10/6/65, they observed LAZARUS and [ ] both in Room [ ] of the Seville Hotel, Miami Beach, Florida. [ ] was interviewed on this date by Agents.

Miami conducted investigation in October, 1965, which reflected that both [ ] and SALERNO together rented a 1963 Chevrolet.

Miami forwarded information received from both Miami and New Orleans informants to the effect that RUBY LAZARUS was bookmaking and that RUBY LAZARUS was connected with FAT TONY SALERNO. Additionally, Miami forwarded information indicating a strong likelihood that there was a betting group put together of [ ] RUBY LAZARUS, [ ] and FAT TONY SALERNO which had named themselves the "Iron Curtain".

b7C

Miami advised that their investigation showed that as of 10/13/65, [ ] LAZARUS and SALERNO could not be located in Miami, Florida.

By communication dated 2/23/66, Miami advised the following information received on 2/21/66 from [ ]

b2
b7D

LA 166-445

This informant said that a group, most recently known as the "Iron Curtain", is composed of [redacted] [redacted] RUBY LAZARUS and an unknown Italian interest (probably ANTHONY SALERNO). He stated that [redacted] [redacted] was probably a member of this group. The informant advised that because LAZARUS is very good at keeping bookmaking records, this would enable him to perform as a clerk for a bookmaking office.

b6
b7C
b7D

This informant further advised that the "Iron Curtain" group had made a lot of money on all sporting events, but during the 1965 World Series while LAZARUS was operating at the Seville Hotel, Miami Beach, LAZARUS ran into extreme trouble. This informant stated this trouble was caused by LAZARUS because he owes a considerable amount of money to various Miami bookmakers under the guise of this money being part of that bet by the "Iron Curtain" group. This informant advised that this money was, in fact, bet solely by LAZARUS.

Miami earlier had reported that on 11/28/65, Miami Agents arrested members of [redacted] bookmaking operation and, thereafter, executed search warrants at bookmaking premises. A review of records seized reflected LAZARUS had Account No. 45.

b7C

On 2/18/66, Las Vegas advised that based on information in their files, it is most probable that [redacted] [redacted] was the one who was with [redacted] in Palm Springs, California. Las Vegas further advised that in contacts by the Las Vegas Office, [redacted] was found to be more cooperative than [redacted] and Las Vegas suggested that New York be requested to contact [redacted] directly concerning this matter.

b7C

Las Vegas further advised that [redacted] is in frequent contact with the owner of the Tracy Leasing Corporation [redacted] It was the opinion of Las Vegas that [redacted] would be cooperative upon direct contact concerning his insight into the Palm Springs meeting.

b6
b7C

LA 166-445

OPINION OF THE LOS ANGELES DIVISION

The informant information originally received indicated the dates of the Palm Springs meeting as 10/5 - 10/65.

The following is the dates that the 1965 World Series took place:

10/6/65, Wednesday, at Minnesota
10/7/65, Thursday, at Minnesota
10/8/65, Friday, travel day
10/9/65, Saturday, at Los Angeles
10/10/65, Sunday, at Los Angeles
10/11/65, Monday, at Los Angeles
10/12/65, Tuesday, travel day
10/13/65, Wednesday, at Minnesota
10/14/65, Thursday, at Minnesota

It is noted that records at Palm Springs show that VINCENT ALO registered at the Canyon Club Inn on 10/8/65, while LAZARUS and SALERNO did not check in until 10/12/65. It is believed that on 10/9/65, [redacted] from Las Vegas was in telephonic contact with LAZARUS and [redacted]

b6

Therefore, the following conclusion is being drawn:

VINCENT ALO may have come to Palm Springs, California to visit with [redacted] and in addition to take in the Los Angeles games of the World Series which occurred on 10/9, 10 and 11/65. It was also noted that on 10/11/65, a phone call was made from a known phone of [redacted] to the Sheraton West Hotel, Los Angeles. This call could have been made to ALO had he not desired to drive the 120 miles to and from each

b6
b7C

LA 166-445

Series game. It is conjectured that [ ] in his conversations with ALO may have brought up an issue which caused calls to be made to Miami, Florida and brought into Palm Springs, California from Florida [ ] SALERNO and LAZARUS. It is noted that Los Angeles has been unable, to date, to place ALO at the Palm Springs residence and in touch with this group, although it is felt he was involved with same.

b6
b7C

Furthermore, it is believed that the following witnesses could be subpoenaed before a Grand Jury to give some insight into this group:

b6
b7C

In addition to these individuals, it is felt that all telephone records linking this group before, during and after this meeting are of the utmost importance.

CONTACTS WITH THE U. S. ATTORNEY

As reflected in referenced communication, AUSA JOHN LALLY, Chief of the Organized Crime Section, Los Angeles, is extremely interested in [ ]

[ ] and is extremely receptive to holding a Grand Jury inquiry into [ ] AUSA LALLY has requested, however, that no active interviews be conducted until sufficient record checks have been made and all background completed.

There is, however, a serious objection to any attempt to serve a subpoena at this location at the present time. Newark holds the opinion that [redacted] is no specific individual but rather only a name made up to secure the telephone and utilities service. From photographs, a source has tentatively identified [redacted] as one who was present at the location prior to 1/1/66. The monthly rental is now being paid by an individual tentatively identified as [redacted]. Both [redacted] and [redacted] have prior arrests for bookmaking. There are at least three still unidentified persons who frequent the [redacted] location and another apartment in the same building, on a daily basis. Efforts are continuing to assess the full scope of this operation and to secure evidence of its interstate character.

b7C

This matter is being followed closely by Departmental Attorney PETER RICHARDS, who is of the opinion that since the recipient of the telephone call from Palm Springs, California, to Union City, N.J., on 10/16/65 cannot be identified, an attempt to serve a subpoena at [redacted] would only jeopardize any future prosecution which is anticipated.

b7C

An examination of the toll calls charged to [redacted] for the period July through December, obtained in connection with [redacted] does not show any toll calls to Palm Springs, California. During the pertinent period there are the following calls:

NOTE: LA has under investigation a case involving Vincent, Alo, Anthony Salerno, [redacted] and Ruby Lazarus. In October, 1965, at the time of the World Series, the above group met at a Palm Springs, California, residence to discuss approximately $200,000 worth of "stuffed" claims Lazarus had made while in partnership with the above group. Numerous telephone calls were made from quarters being occupied by above group to gambling figures throughout the U.S. AUSA Lally, LA, plans FGJ inquiry to determine purpose of gambling meeting. LA contemplates that if Alo and Salerno in particular are called before the grand jury and offered immunity they would undoubtedly decline to testify and could be charged with contempt. Question of granting of immunity with regard to subjects of active Bureau cases who are under indictment or whose cases are proceeding to indictment was discussed with Departmental Attorneys Edward T. Joyce and Brian Gettings. Mr. Joyce indicated he would be quite reluctant to grant immunity to such individuals and suggested that Mr. Lally should consult him if he is laying plans to grant immunity in this FGJ investigation to such individuals.

It is believed necessary if future Grand Jury action taken that strong consideration of FCC immunity be given to gamblers called by subjects, therefore, pertinent to establish evidence to show the above gamblers involvement in bookmaking activities. As pointed out by Miami, they have possible witnesses and records to establish that [REDACTED] are gamblers. It is noted that the Baltimore Office conducted a search of [REDACTED] Baltimore advised if records found substantiate [REDACTED] as bookmaker.

A number of telephone calls were made from Palm Springs during this pertinent period to a Chicago telephone number which is registered to the Tides Motel in Chicago. Investigation at the Tides Motel reveals four persons were residing at the motel during the months of October and are permanent residents. No record of long distance calls charged to their particular rooms through the central switchboard was located. [REDACTED] has heard that [ ] was a bookmaker and that MAX NETTLER was a very large bookmaker who resides directly across the street from the Tides Motel. The source believes that NETTLER would probably be the person receiving the pertinent telephone calls from Palm Springs, pointing out that telephone calls to the motel can be relayed to the restaurant area through the switchboard. [ ] further pointed out that [ ] had a personal telephone in his motel room during October of 1965.

CG 166-562

b6
b7C
b7D

It is pointed out that NETTLER is the subject of a Chicago ITWI case and informants have reported NETTLER was an associate of Chicago hoodlum FELIX ALDERISIO. NETTLER reportedly bets $30,000 to $40,000 a week and handles lay-off action for other bookies with unlimited credit. It has also been reported that NETTLER has contacts all over the country who call him at pre-determined telephone numbers to arrange for layoff action. Chicago bookies have been warned not to take large bets from NETTLER who is regarded as a personal handicapper.

It is further pointed out that [ ] has previously telephoned [ ] which is the residence building of NETTLER located directly across the street from the Tides Motel. This further indicates that NETTLER is probably the person receiving telephone calls in instant matter. Chicago, in efforts to determine if any telephone calls have been made from Chicago to Palm Springs by NETTLER and his group, has requested telephone toll calls from the Tides Motel and the personal telephone of [ ]

Newark advised, however, there is a serious objection to any attempts to serve a subpoena at this location at the present time. Newark is of the opinion that [redacted] is no specific individual but rather is a name made up to secure the telephone and utility service. From photographs, a source had tentatively identified [redacted] as one who was billed the location prior to 1/1/66. The monthly rental is now being paid by an individual tentatively identified as

[redacted] Both [redacted] and [redacted] have prior arrests for bookmaking. There are at least three still unidentified persons who frequent the [redacted] location and another apartment in the same building on a daily basis. Efforts are continuing to assess the full scope of this operation and to secure evidence of its interstate character.

b6
b7C

This matter is being followed closely by Departmental Attorney PETER RICHARDS who is of the opinion that since the recipient of the telephone call from Palm Springs, California, to Union City, New Jersey, on 10/16/65 cannot be identified, an attempt to serve a subpoena at [redacted] location would only jeopardize any further prosecution which is anticipated.

b6
b7C

The Newark Office files show no information pertaining to the whereabouts of VINCENT ALO in October, 1965.

The Chicago Office advised on 3/9/66 that [redacted] [redacted] Tides Motel, confidentially advised that [redacted] of unknown employment, are frequently seen in the company of [redacted] and MAX NETTLER in the restaurant area of the motel and on occasion are all in the company of [redacted] Miami and Chicago hoodlum. The source advised that [redacted] takes bets occasionally and NETTLER is known as a big bookmaker. The source believed NETTLER would probably be the person receiving pertinent calls, pointing out that calls to the motel can be relayed to the restaurant area. The source further pointed out that [redacted] had a personal telephone in his room believed to be during October, 1965. NETTLER is the subject of several ITWI cases and informants have reported NETTLER to be an associate of Chicago hoodlum FELIX ALDERISIO and NETTLER reportedly bets $30,000 to $40,000 a week and handles lay off action for all bookies with unlimited credit. NETTLER is alleged to have contacts all over the country who call him at pre-determined telephone numbers to arrange for lay off action and Chicago bookmakers have been warned not to take large bets from NETTLER who is regarded as a professional handicapper.

On 3/11/66, the Chicago Office advised that in the past [redacted] has previously telephoned [redacted] and that NETTLER resides in this building which is directly across the street from the Tides Motel.

The individuals staying at the Canyon Club Inn, namely RUBY and TONY would come over to the house each day. On one occasion [redacted] was extremely angry with RUBY and accused him of being responsible for the loss of a large sum of money. He gained the impression that all four men were large gamblers and possibly were gambling on the World Series which was then taking place. He claimed that the one called TONY more or less acted as a peace maker between [redacted] and RUBY and TONY made statements that although RUBY was accountable for the loss of a large sum of money they still made money. Date 4/8/66

JOHN L. SULLIVAN, 4309 East Sunny Dunes Road, telephone number 327-2510, examined the following photographs and advised as follows:

[redacted] VINCENT ALO, [redacted]
ANTHONY SALERNO, RUBY LAZARUS and [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] stayed at the house at [redacted] supposedly rented by [redacted]. They shared the same bedroom. [redacted] arrived in Los Angeles by plane from Miami, Florida, and was broke. [redacted] stayed for about three days and [redacted] stayed about 10 or 11 days. [redacted] was at this house for about one day before and during the entire baseball World Series 1965. [redacted] openly discussed being from Boston.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stayed at this house for about 10 or 11 days when [redacted] was there. [redacted] stayed with [redacted]. There was one telephone with extensions on it when [redacted] arrived at the house, but he had the telephone company install a private line and telephone in [redacted] and appeared much thinner and younger than his photograph.

b7C

ANTHONY SALERNO, RUBY LAZARUS and VINCENT ALO who were staying at the Canyon Club Inn, came to the house daily and spent the day. SALERNO and LAZARUS shared a room at Canyon Club Inn and ALO had a separate room.

There was another man, who SULLIVAN thinks was named [redacted] staying at the Canyon Club Inn; however, he was at the house only on two occasions.

b6
b7C

SULLIVAN gained the impression ALO was the "big shot" of the group and his occasional visits to the house appeared social. Never did SULLIVAN observe ALO on the telephone or discussing anything.

[ ] and SALERNO appeared to be on a "par" with each other and RUBY LAZARUS appeared to be the "low man" because the others told him what to do.

b7C

SULLIVAN would arrive for work at about 8:00 a.m. each day and RUBY LAZARUS and [ ] would be on the telephone making numerous calls. [ ] and ANTHONY SALERNO would be using the telephones on occasions. The telephones were in use until the baseball game started and then these men would watch the game closely. They made very few telephone calls after the baseball game was over and usually went out to dinner each evening.

b6
b7C

SULLIVAN overheard statements made between the men while they were on the telephone such as "How about so & so" answer "He's OK". "How much here". "How did it go there." "They did better." "They did OK".

b6
b7C

Usually it was [ ] asking RUBY LAZARUS or ANTHONY SALERNO these questions.

SULLIVAN did not know who they were calling or where those persons were located.

Also, these men were continually figuring the odds on the game.

SULLIVAN said he knows their telephone conversations had to do with gambling and even though he cannot state in so many words why he knows, he knows they were calling different sections of the United States to determine how much had been bet and telling the people being called odd changes to be made and what "betting action" to take.

After one of the ball games there was discussion which indicated RUBY LAZARUS had "goofed on the odds". A statement was made to the effect we made so much but could have made more if it had not been for the goof.

On December 30, 1965, MM T-1 advised that RUBY

[redacted] On January 6, 1966, MM T-1 advised that [redacted] a big stake card game with him but has not been successful.

He also learned that [redacted] is taking some action with RUBY LAZARUS but does not know whether it has been betting or booking or both.

On January 20, 1966, MM T-1 advised that he learned the Baltimore and Dallas professional football teams opened at even money and then the price went to 7½ to 5 and Dallas was favored by 4½ points. Practically all of the "smart money" bettors and the "sucker" bettors bet on Dallas; as a result the bookmakers, including RUBY LAZARUS, took in only out of town action but the local action caused some big headaches as they could not lay off the bets here or in other cities as no one wanted them due to the fact the same condition prevailed in other areas. When Dallas lost by a big score, all of the bookmakers, including RUBY LAZARUS made an untold amount of money.

On February 25, 1966, MM T-1 advised he was informed that RUBY LAZARUS went "way down hill" financially because of his $300,000 loss in betting and bookmaking football games the past season. He pointed out that RUBY LAZARUS and [redacted] are not too well liked by the "boys" and that they are the type who appear to have a "chip on their shoulders" at all times. Since LAZARUS is just one of the common individuals and does not have the power and influence he had when he had lots of money, he is being ignored by some; however, others put up with him because of his close connection with ANTHONY SALERNO. At the present time, LAZARUS is about "holding his own" but he has not recovered any of his big loss.

AID OF RACKETEERING - GAMBLING

A request has been received from the Department for an indices check to be made of the members of the grand jury being empaneled in the Central District of California at Los Angeles. This grand jury will begin next week.

While it is realized that it is unusual for us to make a check of office indices, the grand jury being empaneled will consider a case of national importance. The Los Angeles Office has had under investigation a case involving Vincent Alo, Anthony Salerno, [redacted] and Ruby Lazarus. This group met during October, 1965, at the time of the world series at a Palm Springs, California, residence to discuss approximately $200,000 worth of gambling shortages caused by Ruby Lazarus. Numerous telephone calls were made from the quarters being occupied by the above group to gambling figures throughout the United States.

A previous investigation has determined that Alo and Salerno belong to the La Cosa Nostra "family" headed by Jerry Catena, of Newark, New Jersey. [redacted] is a nationally prominent lay-off bookmaker.

The Department has advised that the list of grand jurors will be available at the Office of the United States Attorney at Los Angeles.

It is recommended that Los Angeles Office, in this case, be permitted to make an indices check of the list of grand jurors as requested by the Department.

Re: Vincent Alo

NOTE: Los Angeles has under investigation and is preparing for prosecution an ITAR - Gambling case involving Vincent Alo and Anthony Salerno (members of La Cosa Nostra "family" headed by Jerry Catena, of Newark, New Jersey), [REDACTED] and Ruby Lazarus. In October, 1965, at the time of the World Series, the above group met at a Palm Springs, California, residence to discuss approximately $200,000 worth of "stuffed" claims for bets Lazarus has made while in gambling partnership with the above group, and on which he had personally defaulted. Bets had been received by gamblers with the understanding Lazarus was making them for this group, whereas he had been betting on his own. The group was being held accountable for Lazarus' losses. Numerous telephone calls were made from quarters being occupied by above group to gambling figures throughout the United States. Case is to be presented to FGJ on 12/13/66 at Los Angeles. AUSA Richard Coleman and Los Angeles Office both recommend that Bureau Agents be authorized to serve subpoenas on 12/7/66 to a number of necessary witnesses at Los Angeles and Miami so that witnesses will have no opportunity to evade such service. In view of the importance of this case, it is recommended that the authority requested be granted.
